IS IN SWITZERLAND

MISS CORWIN ENJOYS THE BEAUTIES OF SWITZERLAND.

SAW BEAUTIFUL CARVING

Then Those Real Milk Chocolate Cakes Will Never Be Forgotten—Climbing Snow Covered Peaks.

The Democrat-Forum presents today a continuation of Miss Mae Corwin's letter written from Paris:

When we finally arrived at Zermatt, away off in the narrow strip of valley, we were so cold the sheetiron stove in the hotel lobby was our best friend. We only looked at the plain little rooms and fled to the stove again, but I will give you an idea for cold weather beds gleaned from that land. They have very high single beds with box springs and a mattress on top, then the usual covers and two pillows, these being real down or feathers, instead of the bricks we had been using. But the peculiar thing is the feather bed on top. It is only a half-grown feather bed, just to warm your feet. One has to warm up in sections. I learned to use a pillow to help out, so got along quite nicely. We had them in Geneva, also, so I guess it is a Swiss idea. Zermatt boasts one street, lined on both sides with post card, curio, jewelry, carved wood and necessities-of-travelers shops, with numerous hotels thrown in. The Swiss are especially noted for wood carving, and we saw some wonderful things. I purchased a nut cracker and Cousin George wanted to take a hat tree and umbrella stand that was a real tree with several finely carved bears thereon—he didn't though. The carved birds are colored also, and are quite deserving. We had to go up and feel of some to believe they did not have real feathers. They make charming toys. They also do fine embroidery, but it was rather fine in price also. There were the greatest things for camping—knives, forks and spoons with handles that folded over or all fastened together in one slim case, some would go in a purse and of course, there were the tramping clothes. A woolly hat was very popular, about the size of mine, like my coat, and most of the girls invested in them.

We were then in the real milk chocolate land. Booths along the street and many sold nothing else. It was good, too, and rather cheap, so we ate our fill, and, strange to say, haven't bought much since we came to Paris. They have it here, only in tiny little cakes. There it came in pieces an inch thick and about 6x10 in size.

The next day we made the great tramp up to the Gornergrat. A cog road goes to the summit, but only Cousin George and Polly took the easy route. We would have better views from the foot path. Eighteen of us started blithely out and there were three of us at the finish. The climb was not so hard, but long and rather slippery from rain a few hours before. The path was quite broad and plain, but rather straight up in places.

After leaving the village we walked for an hour up and up through most beautiful pines and wasted considerable breath on ravings over the wonders of the scene, as the whole valley and its wall of great mountains was revealed. The snow covered peaks were chilly white in the sun, then a fringe of several hundred feet was sprinkled just like Christmas diamond dust decorations, and below the dark woods, shading down into green pastures, which in turn gave place to little checkerboard fields of grain, which closed in the settlements in the valley.

Old Matterhorn, with crooked beak, was revealed more and more. The great white glaciers extend far down in the valleys around it, and on the steepest side are cuts which look like a coasting hill where the heavy snows have slipped down.

We had a festive lunch at a little valley, and where fine milk and cheese gave added zest to our hotel lunch. There are several little houses along the path which advertise "Milch, the cafe and liqueur." We ate at a little table on a natural balcony, which hand of man had only covered with thatch and railed in. It overlooked a newly cut hay field sloping sharply down, and directly across was old Matterhorn, beautiful and white, with the hotel at the snow line. I could write many pages on just that view, but must hasten on to the top.

We all soon discovered we had eaten too early and plentifully, and some lagged behind. Instructions from our guide said, "Start on the return at 3 o'clock, wherever you are, or dark will overtake you on the return."

I was carrying my new rain coat, but decided in spite of burdens we must hasten, so Rachael, Vera Stone and myself started on together. We passed a very swell hotel with tennis courts and a splendid view, and thought we saw the summit house on the adjoining hill top. We wound around to get over there, then up. It was a stiff climb and rocky, but beautiful. The Alpine flowers grew in beds, masses and singly, the hill side was carpeted with color, simply wonderful, and we were now up where snow lay in shaded places.

We had the inclination to rest on these downy rocks every few yards, but kept up courage and called to those behind us. On rounding the top we had another wonderful view and began to feel the closeness of the circle of snow, but found on a porch of this hotel one of our party, who had preceded us—the top was somewhere up yet and we saw a series of rounded mounds. We trudged on and soon passed the first of our crowd lunching on a large rock in a sea of snow. The view was good enough for them there, top an hour and a half ahead.

We went to the top of another mound and saw below us two pretty lakes and the foot of a great glacier from the adjoining mountain. Rachel decided she would perish right there in the snow, but I had a desire to see the top, so we trudged on. It was wet, but not rocky, for a little way, then we met an English woman with goggles, boots and short skirt on. She said: "You are past the worst, go right on," so we took another breath and started up over a solid pile of rocks with snow and running water to wade through, and at the top saw—another mound. Then away up and ahead the castle top of the summit hotel.

I said: "Nothing to this. That place is a day's journey away now." We decided to climb a snowy mound and gaze at it. When up there we ate our last milk chocolate and reclined on a warm snow bank. Then the cog train went up that hill, and it made me mad to have that funny little engine beat me. At 3 o'clock we decided to disobey by half an hour and go up, and we really did. It was wading through slush to our ankles and slipping back in the mud. I could only go a few feet at a spurt, the altitude and cold were so hard, and, of course, my shoes were soaked, but when we rounded the last curve and into the station, there was Cousin George hopping around on a stone wall waiting to welcome us. We were so happy we forgot to be tired, and raced on up to the tiptop and looked through the telescope.

WAS KNOWN HERE

MRS. J. A. TIPTON OF ALBANY KILLED IN ACCIDENT.

WAS CAUGHT UNDER AUTO

Was in St. Joseph Tuesday and Was Driving Home With Husband—Friend of Mrs. Robinson.

J. A. Tipton, the Albany merchant whose wife was instantly killed in an automobile accident near King City Wednesday evening, is unable to account for the accident. They had been at St. Joseph and were returning home. Mr. Tipton says they were on a good stretch of road but he thinks they were not running more than fifteen miles an hour.

The machine suddenly turned turtle. Mrs. Tipton was caught under the machine and the back of the front seat crushed her spine between the shoulders. Doctors say that death was instantaneous.

Tipton, who was driving the machine, a five-passenger E. M. F. touring car, was thrown about ten feet, alighting on his back. He was made unconscious for a time but as soon as he was able to walk he notified W. W. Birch, a farmer who lives a quarter of a mile from the scene of the accident. Roy Wilkinson, another farmer, Birch and Tipton returned and extricated the body from beneath the car. Doctor McAllister of King City was summoned and arrived thirty minutes after the accident, but his services were not needed.

Mrs. Tipton was a close friend of Mrs. J. B. Robinson and has often visited her in this city. They were together in St. Joseph Tuesday and passed a delightful day both starting for their homes in the evening. When Mrs. Robinson received a telephone message the next morning apprising her of the death of her friend and companion of the day before, she was inexpressibly shocked.

A telegram was received by Rev. Taylor Wednesday morning announcing the death of Mrs. Estella Shroyer Miller at Stillwater, Okla., and announcing that the remains would arrive in Hopkins on Thursday to be laid away in the Hopkins cemetery, with short services at the grave.

The deceased will be remembered by most Hopkins people as Miss Stella Shroyer and lived for several years here when the town was new, being a daughter of the Mrs. Shroyer who resided in the property east of Robert Hook's present home.

It is expected that the remains will arrive here on the noon train Thursday, the remains to be taken direct to the cemetery.—Hopkins Journal.

Mrs. Miranda Florence Dixon, wife of Simeon Dixon of Parnell, died at St. Francis hospital Wednesday night of typhoid fever. TRADED HUSBANDS

DIVORCED WIVES MATED TO EACH OTHER'S HUSBAND.

AND EVERYBODY IS HAPPY

Except the Minister, Who Has Conscientious Scruples Against Marrying People Who Are Divorced.

John F. Heath, station agent at Gower, Mo., was married in Maryville Wednesday at the home of Rev. Lee Harrel to Mrs. Carrie Montgomery, also of Gower. It is also said that A. L. Montgomery of Gower was married in Kansas City Tuesday to Mrs. Blanch Heath. And thereby hangs a story.

When John F. Heath, who gave his age at 28, and his intended bride appeared before Rev. Harrel and announced that they had come from Gower to Maryville to have the marital knot tied, the minister was just a little curious for a moment, but they had a right to come up here to get married, it seemed, and why not. Rev. Harrel has scruples about marrying people with living mates, or mismates as the case may be, and he won't do it if he knows it. So he observed, as he thought, that the lady was introduced to him as "Miss," and when a reporter volunteered to interview the prospective groom the pastor paid attention to what was said, and he understood that the groom positively declared that matrimony was a brand new experience to both of them. So the wedding proceeded.

Now comes the report that there were two couples divorced in the circuit court at Plattsburg Monday. Mr. Heath, the station agent, was divorced from his wife, Mrs. Blanche Heath, on the ground of extravagance. Mr. Montgomery was released from his bonds on the ground of desertion. Neither suit was contested and prompt action was secured. No time was lost apparently by the interested parties, for, according to report, Montgomery and Mrs. Heath were married the next day in Kansas City, and because of a curious reporter getting on their trail Heath and Mrs. Montgomery were delayed a day, or perhaps because they wanted to be married in a first class town, so they were spliced in Maryville Wednesday.

Heath and Montgomery are said to be good friends, and there is no kicking. It looks like an even swap "unsight unseen," and everybody is happy except the good pastor, Rev. Harrel, who thought he was doing an original job and welding new material.

The merchant who does not advertise liberally this fall will miss many a dollar that goes to the man who does.

President Taft thinks cash should not be allowed to accumulate in stockings. There is no danger, Billy, as long as the trusts continue to fix the cost of living.

It is probable that more horses have had worms this fall than meningitis. A few doses of linseed oil might also be a good thing for a good many people afflicted with new fangled ailments.

Mr. Taft, it is said, will soon extend the civil service to cover fourth class postmasters. If he does, he will relieve a lot of men of a growing uneasiness and will also relieve congressmen of a lot of trouble.

Col. Roosevelt is now referring to Eugene Debs, the Socialist candidate for president, as "Brother Debs." A few years ago when Roosevelt was president and Debs was a defeated candidate he classed Debs along with Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone as "undesirable citizens." Is it a change of heart or just a change of conditions?

It is a significant fact that neither the Republican nor the Third Term orators are discussing the tariff. How can they, when both their candidates have always been stand-patters where the tariff was concerned? And yet the tariff is largely responsible for all the burdens the people of this country are struggling under. No program for relief from present trouble can have any value which does not have for its very coping-stone the revision downward of the tariff.

There are a lot of people who would like to know, just as a matter of curiosity, whether the Republican and Bull Moose county ticket is for Taft or Roosevelt. Taft and Roosevelt are not friendly rivals pulling in the same direction but are personal as well as political enemies each devoted to the task of annihilating the other. The avowed purpose of the Bull Moose party is the destruction of the Republican party. The one is the offspring of the other. They feed upon the same hay and only one of them can survive in a formidable way. As it is the business of Roosevelt to destroy Taft so it is the business of the Taft party to destroy this new pretender to the throne. Men can not serve both God and mammon and they can not serve both Roosevelt and Taft. Now which do they stand for?

DR. CROWSON HURT.

Pickering Physician Suffers Broken Ribs in a Runaway Wednesday.

As Dr. E. L. Crowson of Pickering was returning from a call Wednesday evening a piece of his buggy harness broke and let down the tongue, causing the team to frighten and run away. The doctor was thrown into the road on his shoulders. He was badly bruised all over his body and had several ribs broken. He is being attended by his brother, Dr. Crowson of Sheridan.

We, the members of the Maryville Ministers' association, are saddened by the death of our comrade Dr. J. S. Ford. He preached and lived the whole gospel of Jesus Christ. THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, in a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble."

My husband asked me to try Cardui. I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it.

CANNONS IN "PEACE" PARADE

ORANGEMEN MARCHED WITH RIFLES AND AMBULANCES.

Leaders Urged Followers Not to Resort to Violence—Troops to Be Sent to Ulster Day.

Belfast, Sept. 26.—News that $20,000 was subscribed by Irish-Americans at Philadelphia Monday night in furtherance of the home rule campaign had the same effect on the speakers at the day's Orange meeting at Portadown County Armagh, as waving a red rag in his face upon a vicious bull.

Twenty thousand listened to denunciations by a long list of speakers, of home rule generally and John Redmond and "Dollar Dictators" in particular.

The usual procession followed, in which several clashes occurred between home rule and anti-home rule factions. The anti-home rule procession included two cannons, an ambulance, several nurses and a number of battalions of Orange club men carrying rifles.

The Orange leaders again urged their followers not to resort to violence until "passive resistance" has failed, and again their followers paid no attention to them. The outlook for serious trouble is threatening.

Large forces of troops are to be moved into Belfast in preparation for Ulster day, September 28, when the anti-home rule covenant is to be signed by the Unionists of that province.

Orders were sent from headquarters at Dublin castle to Brigadier General Count Gleichen, in command here, to that effect. He was informed that the first battalions would reach Belfast the night of September 27.

ALASKAN VOLCANO IN ERUPTION

Mt. Wrangell Now Throwing Smoke and Lava From Seven Vents Instead of One.

Valdez, Alaska, Sept. 26.—Mount Wrangell, the most widely known of the smoking volcanoes of Alaska, again is in eruption. Lieut. Prosser of the signal corps, who has just returned to Valdez from a trip of inspection reported that Mt. Wrangell was throwing out large volumes of smoke and lava.

Instead of one crater there are now at least seven vents and with the aid of field glasses lava can be seen issuing from the openings and flowing down across the glaciers.

This is believed to be the explanation of the high water in the streams draining that district. From Ketsina it is reported that the sulphurous fumes are so strong that prospectors working near Ketsina Glacier have been driven out.

SNOW TOO EARLY FOR FARMERS

Northern Grain Crops Uncut, Threshing Unfinished and White Blanket Covers Ground.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 26.—Following a week of rain the first snow of a season partly covers North Dakota, eastern Montana and western Minnesota. In some sections the fall is heavy enough to delay traffic.

Farmers in the northern counties of North Dakota and Minnesota will be heavy sufferers, many fields of wheat, rye, flax and barley being uncut. The corn crop also will suffer.

Threshing was about half completed and a week more of good weather will be needed before work can be completed.

Killed in Motor Wreck.

Albany, Mo., Sept. 26.—Mrs. J. A. Tipton, wife of a prominent merchant of this place, was killed and Mr. Tipton himself badly injured when a motor car in which they were returning home from a shopping trip, turned over between Stanberry and King City. Mr. Tipton and his wife had been in St. Joseph all day and left there at 6:30.

Quakes in Illinois.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 26.—Two earthquake shocks, the first at 12:10 o'clock, were felt here. Dishes were scattered from dinner tables by the tremors which continued for several seconds.

CASCARETS SURELY STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

No Headache, Biliousness, Upset Stomach, Lazy Liver or Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway through these alimentary or drainage organs every few days with salts, cathartic pills, castor oil or purgative waters.

Stop having a bowel wash day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, biliousness, coated tongue, indigestion, sour stomach or constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

Lecture Postponed.

Since Rev. C. J. Miller of this city was called to Burlington Junction Wednesday evening to conduct meetings a few days for the pastor there, Rev. John Love, who is ill of typhoid fever, the lecture to have been given by Rev. Miller before the Mothers' Circle Friday afternoon has been postponed. KANSAS FAMILY SLAIN IN TENT

Mystery Surrounds Murder of Three Near Wellington.

BLOODY FINGER MARKS ON BED

Imprint May Lead to Discovery of Assassin—No Motive Known Except Robbery—Little Money Found in Place.

Wellington, Kan., Sept. 26.—Theodore McKnelly, the former car repairer for the Santa Fe railroad, who was beaten to death with a ball bat in a tent a mile east of the center of Wellington and his wife, Ida, who was beaten and shot to death, carried a thousand dollars insurance each. Their daughter, Gretta, 18 years old, also was a victim of the assassin.

Mystery surrounds the identity of the murderer. Mrs. McKnelly died at 7:45 without having regained consciousness. If robbery was the purpose of the crime the assailant overlooked $3 in a bureau drawer and some small change in McKnelly's pockets.

Should Have Had $60.

Otto McKnelly, the 21-year-old son of the murdered man, says that his father should have had at least $60.

McKnelly was 52 years old. His wife was 50. They had lived in Wellington five years. McKnelly recently lost his job with the Santa Fe, and being a consumptive, decided to take up tent life, and it was believed the open air life would do them good.

They had just erected the tent and moved in at 6 o'clock. There was a light burning in the tent as late as 10 o'clock, the neighbors say, and when found at noon the McKnells were in their night clothes.

Signs of Fierce Struggle.

The bed clothing on both beds showed signs of fierce struggles. The sideboards of the bed occupied by McKnelly was covered with bloody finger marks, showing that McKnelly had tried to get under the structure, out of reach of the murderer.

Otto McKnelly worked all night as usual, according to the records in the roundhouse of the Santa Fe. He was awakened at noon to be taken to the scene of the murder, but did not go inside the tent. He did not go to the hospital during the day to see his mother. He was too much excited to make a statement, and only said that he had no knowledge of enemies that his parents or sister might have had.

The spot where the McKnelly tent was pitched is in a lonely place several blocks away from any house, a half mile east of the Santa Fe roundhouse.

Two years ago a car repairer for the Santa Fe was beaten to death one night in his bachelor home near where the McKnells formerly lived. The dead man and McKnelly were close friends.

HELD COURT SESSION ON TRAIN

Three Men Convicted and Fined in Railroad Coach for Drinking Liquor.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 26.—Arrested aboard a train operating between Joplin and Neosho, Mo., three men were given trials, convicted and fined on the morning train by officials of Newton county, Missouri.

I. H. Collier, sheriff, arrested the men for drinking liquor aboard the train. He escorted them to a rear coach where William Sexton, prosecuting attorney, and J. W. Wilson, a justice of the peace sat. The coach was transformed into a courtroom and the prisoners presented to the justice. Each pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and "court" costs. They paid the assessments and were discharged. Few passengers were aware that a court hearing was taking place.

FREIGHT RATE IS HIGH ENOUGH

Proposed Increase by Kansas City Southern Held Up by Commerce Commission.

Washington, Sept. 26.—A general increase in class freight rates from points in Missouri to destination in Kansas and other states, proposed by the Kansas City Southern railway, was suspended by the interstate commerce commission from September 30 until January 28.

In some instances the increase of the first class rates would amount to 20 per cent and in all instances the increases are regarded by the commission as unreasonable.

Returned El Tigre Silver.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 26.—Five bars of silver bullion worth $5,000 were returned to the El Tigre Mining company by Juan Gonzales, a wood cutter. The bullion, which was part of the loot recently taken by Salazar's rebels, was found in Santa Maria Canyon, ten miles from El Tigre.

Nicaragua Rebels Beaten.

San Juan Del Sur, Sept. 26.—The town of Granada, which was in the hands of the Nicaraguan rebels, has surrendered to the government. Gen. Luis Mona, the insurgent leader, has been taken prisoner.

CHINA'S TROUBLE NOT YET ENDED

Troops Mutinied and Made Attack on Wu Chang.

TWO OFFICERS WERE EXECUTED

Pekin, Sept. 26.—The troops encamped outside the gates of Wu Chang, capital of the Province of Hu-Peh, mutinied in the night and attacked the city. The troops numbered several hundred and were composed for the most part of cavalry.

A strong force of General Li Yuen Heng's regiment immediately engaged the rebels and after several hours of fierce fighting dispersed them. The casualty list is not known, but two officers were executed for failing to disperse their knowledge of the movement.

It is believed that the attacking party intended not only to loot the city, but most of the towns in the interior which have no defenders from such outbreaks, in which both the republican and former imperial troops indulge. The republican spirit apparently is not appreciated by the classes from which the soldiers are recruited.

Generals and Soldiers Included.

The object of the present loan is ostensibly for the purpose of paying off and discharging this menacing army, which is very large, according to the lists submitted by the generals. The national assembly recently made an investigation and discovered that the generals, like the soldiers, were not free from the methods prevalent under the Manchus, but the government argues that it is cheaper to pay the military leaders' demand than fight.

The Chinese appear to be well pleased with the success of the new loan negotiations, the newspapers having stirred up an agitation against the foreign control as proposed by the six power group. Little heed has been paid to the fact that, contrary to the constitution, this contract has not been submitted to the national assembly.

Thousands Are Starving.

Pathetic conditions prevail throughout the country. Occasionally detachments of soldiers engage in looting and wanton destruction. Trade is greatly hampered and thousands of persons are dying from starvation who could be saved by the employment of a few foreign engineers.

Meanwhile the political situation, which is absorbing the Republican leaders, has curious and interesting phases. The Manchu princes recently gave a dinner in honor of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, and toasted the republic. But the imperial guard lined the streets during Dr. Sun's visit, this being regarded as the safest course. The troops of the court, contrary to the abdication terms, remain in the forbidden city. President Yuan evidently desires their presence there.

FALLING WALLS KILLED TWO

NEW CONCRETE HOTEL BUILDING COLLAPSED.

Four Other Workmen Injured and Four Missing—Conflicting Stories as to Cause.

Kansas City, Sept. 26.—Crushed under a mass of falling brick, mortar and concrete, two workmen were killed, four are missing and four others were injured when the removal of the concrete forms from the roof of the new five-story Alameda hotel, Tenth street and the Paseo, caused part of the south and west walls to collapse.

A mass of conflicting statements were made by those who were engaged in the work. John S. Cochran, the inspector in charge, said that the work met the city's requirements and that Charles G. Aiken was superintendent for Walter Davis, the owner. Aiken would not admit that he was in charge and refused to answer any questions.

The contractor, George H. Siedhoff said a statement by Mr. Davis that many tons of cinders on the roof caused the collapse, was ridiculous.

An alarm was turned in and four companies of firemen responded and took up the work of rescue. Three men were taken out badly crushed within a few minutes.

To attempt the rescue of the men still imprisoned without razing the walls was too dangerous.

The north and south walls were pulled down and a portion of the rear wall which still stood was also razed. The work of rescue was then resumed.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the body of W. W. McBride, foreman of the brick construction, was recovered. An hour later the rescue work was abandoned until morning, owing to the danger of further collapses.

Floyd E. Jacobs, assistant prosecuting attorney, said that if the reports save any evidence that the accident was due to negligence an action for criminal negligence would be brought. A conviction of manslaughter in the fourth degree can be obtained for criminal carelessness.

The Alderman Dry Goods company has just completed the interior decorations of its store. The walls have all been painted with the famous Fanderson preparations. This sanitary paint has given very good satisfaction in the east, but few have used it in this section of the country. The entire basement has been cemented to make room for the large stock. The new front will be in and completed in about three weeks.

W. W. Glass returned from a week's visit to LaHarpe, Ill., where he visited his old home and met there a brother from California, whom he had not seen for several years. BINDER FOR SHOCKING CORN

Little Device Contrived by Nebraska Man So That Band May Be Put on With Much Ease.

In describing a contrivance for shocking corn, a Nebraska man writes in the Missouri Valley Farmer as follows:

I have worked out a little device to help with the large shock, so that the band may be put on with ease. The device consists of a tapering shaft 3 1/2 feet long to which a crank is attached. C and D is a crossbar or washer through which a rope passes after being attached to the other end, and fastens to the crank. E is the loop in the rope to fasten to the hook after the rope has been carried around the shock. The operator takes hold of the crank, reels in the rope and pulls up the stalk so the second man has no trouble in putting a band on a large shock.

To Kill Wire Grass.

The so-called wire grasses are many. Such grasses as propagate by means of creeping root-stalks constantly reproduce new plants at the rooting joints, as couch or quack grass, Johnson grass, Bermuda grass and members of the blue-grass family. This pasture, if adapted to tillage, should be completely pulverized to the depth of four inches with a cutaway or disk harrow in July and kept harrowed once a week so long as the soil remains dry during the remainder of the season, allowing no green spear of grass to get a foothold.

By fall the mass of roots will be practically lifeless if the season has been normally dry and hot. The whole should then be turned under ten inches deep, using a jointer. In the spring, harrow every week until time to plant a cultivated crop, then keep perfectly clean and the battle will be won.

Kohl-Rabi.

In most sections of the north a good crop of kohlrabi may be grown if seed is sown not later than the middle of August. White Vienna is a good variety. See that the soil is well enriched with rotten manure before sowing the seed.

MISS CORWIN ENJOYS THE BEAUTIES OF SWITZERLAND.

SAW BEAUTIFUL CARVING

The Democrat-Forum presents today a continuation of Miss Mae Corwin's letter written from Paris:

When we finally arrived at Zermatt, away up in the narrow strip of valley, we were so cold the sheetiron stove in the hotel lobby was our best friend. We only looked at the plain little rooms and fled to the stove again, but I will give you an idea for cold weather beds gleaned from that land. They have very high single beds with box springs and a mattress on top, then the usual covers and two pillows, these being real down or feathers, instead of the bricks we had been using. But the peculiar thing is the feather bed on top. It is only a half-grown feather bed, just to warm your feet. One has to warm up in sections. I learned to use a pillow to help out, so got along quite nicely. We had them in Geneva, also, so I guess it is a Swiss idea. Zermatt boasts one street, lined on both sides with post card, curio, jewelry, carved wood and necessities-of-travelers shops, with numerous hotels thrown in. The Swiss are especially noted for wood carving, and we saw some wonderful things. I purchased a nut cracker and Cousin George wanted to take a hat tree and umbrella stand that was a real tree with several finely carved bears thereon—he didn't though. The carved birds are colored also, and are quite deserving. We had to go up and feel of some to believe they did not have real feathers. They make charming toys. They also do fine embroidery, but it was rather fine in price also. There were the greatest things for camping—knives, forks and spoons with handles that folded over or all fastened together in one slim case, some would go in a purse and, of course, there were the tramping clothes. A woolly hat was very popular, about the size of mine, like my coat, and most of the girls invested in them.

We were then in the real milk chocolate land. Booths along the street and many sold nothing else. It was good, too, and rather cheap, so we ate our fill, and, strange to say, haven't bought much since we came to Paris. They have it here, only in tiny little cakes. There it came in pieces an inch thick and about 6x10 in size.

The next day we made the great tramp up to the Gornergrat. A cog road goes to the summit, but only Cousin George and Polly took the easy route. We would have better views from the foot path. Eighteen of us started blithely out and there were three of us at the finish. The climb was not so hard, but long and rather slippery from rain a few hours before. The path was quite broad and plain, but rather straight up in places.

After leaving the village we walked for an hour up and up through most beautiful pines and wasted considerable breath on ravings over the wonders of the scene, as the whole valley and its wall of great mountains was revealed. The snow covered peaks were chilly white in the sun, then a fringe of several hundred feet was sprinkled just like Christmas diamond dust decorations, and below the dark woods, shading down into green pastures, which in turn gave place to little checkerboard fields of grain, which closed in the settlements in the valley.

Old Matterhorn, with crooked beak, was revealed more and more. The great white glaciers extend far down in the valleys around it, and on the steepest side are cuts which look like a coasting hill where the heavy snows have slipped down.

We had a festive lunch at a little valley, and where fine milk and cheese gave added zest to our hotel lunch. There are several little houses along the patch which advertise "Milch, the cafe and liqueur." We ate at a little table on a natural balcony, which hand of man had only covered with thatch and railed in. It overlooked a newly cut hay field sloping sharply down, and directly across was old Matterhorn, beautiful and white, with the hotel at the snow line. I could write many pages on just that view, but must hasten on to the top.

We all soon discovered we had eaten too early and plentifully, and some lagged behind. Instructions from our guide said, "Start on the return at 3 o'clock, wherever you are, or dark will overtake you on the return."

I was carrying my new rain coat, but decided in spite of burdens we must hasten, so Rachael, Vera Stone and myself started on together. We passed a very swell hotel with tennis courts and a splendid view, and thought we saw the summit house on the adjoining hill top. We wound around to get over there, then up. It was a stiff climb and rocky, but beautiful. The Alpine flowers grew in beds, masses and singly, the hill side was carpeted with color, simply wonderful, and we were now up where snow lay in shaded places.

We had the inclination to rest on these downy rocks every few yards, but kept up courage and called to those behind us. On rounding the top we had another wonderful view and began to feel the closeness of the circle of snow, but found on a porch of this hotel one of our party, who had preceded us—the top was somewhere up yet and we saw a series of rounded mounds. We trudged on and soon passed the first of our crowd lunching on a large rock in a sea of snow. The view was good enough for them there, top an hour and a half ahead.

We went to the top of another mound and saw below us two pretty lakes and the foot of a great glacier from the adjoining mountain. Rachel decided she would perish right there in the snow, but I had a desire to see the top, so we trudged on. It was wet, but not rocky, for a little way, then we met an English woman with goggles, boots and short skirt on. She said: "You are past the worst, go right on," so we took another breath and started up over a solid pile of rocks with snow and running water to wade through, and at the top saw—another mound. Then away up and ahead the castle top of the summit hotel.

I said: "Nothing to this. That place is a day's journey away now." We decided to climb a snowy mound and gaze at it. When up there we ate our last milk chocolate and reclined on a warm snow bank. Then the cog train went up that hill, and it made me mad to have that funny little engine beat me. At 3 o'clock we decided to dismount by half an hour and go up, and we really did. It was wading through slush to our ankles and slipping back in the mud. I could only go a few feet at a spurt, the altitude and cold were so hard, and, of course, my shoes were soaked, but when we rounded the last curve and into the station, there was Cousin George hopping around on a stone wall waiting to welcome us. We were so happy we forgot to be tired, and raced on up to the tiptop and looked through the telescope.

WAS KNOWN HERE

MRS. J. A. TIPTON OF ALBANY KILLED IN ACCIDENT.

J. A. Tipton, the Albany merchant whose wife was instantly killed in an automobile accident near King City Wednesday evening, is unable to account for the accident. They had been at St. Joseph and were returning home. Mr. Tipton says they were on a good stretch of road but he thinks they were not running more than fifteen miles an hour.

The machine suddenly turned turtle. Mrs. Tipton was caught under the machine and the back of the front seat crushed her spine between the shoulders. Doctors say that death was instantaneous.

Tipton, who was driving the machine, a five-passenger E. M. F. touring car, was thrown about ten feet, alighting on his back. He was made unconscious for a time but as soon as he was able to walk he notified W. W. Birch, a farmer who lives a quarter of a mile from the scene of the accident. Roy Wilkinson, another farmer, Birch and Tipton returned and extricated the body from beneath the car. Doctor McAllister of King City was summoned and arrived thirty minutes after the accident, but his services were not needed.

Mrs. Tipton was a close friend of Mrs. J. B. Robinson and has often visited her in this city. They were together in St. Joseph Tuesday and passed a delightful day both starting for their homes in the evening. When Mrs. Robinson received a telephone message the next morning apprising her of the death of her friend and companion of the day before, she was inexpressibly shocked.

A telegram was received by Rev. Taylor Wednesday morning announcing the death of Mrs. Estella Shroyer Miller at Stillwater, Okla., and announcing that the remains would arrive in Hopkins on Thursday to be laid away in the Hopkins cemetery, with short services at the grave.

The deceased will be remembered by most Hopkins people as Miss Stella Shroyer and lived for several years here when the town was new, being a daughter of the Mrs. Shroyer who resided in the property east of Robert Hook's present home.

It is expected that the remains will arrive here on the noon train Thursday, the remains to be taken direct to the cemetery.—Hopkins Journal.

Mrs. Miranda Florence Dixon, wife of Simeon Dixon of Parnell, died at St. Francis hospital Wednesday night of typhoid fever. The body was taken to Parnell Thursday for burial. Mrs. Dixon was 39 years old and a native of Nodaway county. She was a daughter of Thomas Crenshaw. TRADED HUSBANDS

AND EVERYBODY IS HAPPY

John F. Heath, station agent at Gower, Mo., was married in Maryville Wednesday at the home of Rev. Lee Harrel to Mrs. Carrie Montgomery, also of Gower. It is also said that A. L. Montgomery of Gower was married in Kansas City Tuesday to Mrs. Blanch Heath. And thereby hangs a story.

When John F. Heath, who gave his age at 28, and his intended bride appeared before Rev. Harrel and announced that they had come from Gower to Maryville to have the marital knot tied, the minister was just a little curious for a moment, but they had a right to come up here to get married, it seemed, and why not. Rev. Harrel has scruples about marrying people with living mates, or mismates as the case may be, and he won't do it if he knows it. So he observed, as he thought, that the lady was introduced to him as "Miss," and when a reporter volunteered to interview the prospective groom the pastor paid attention to what was said, and he understood that the groom positively declared that matrimony was a brand new experience to both of them. So the wedding proceeded.

Now comes the report that there were two couples divorced in the circuit court at Plattsburg Monday. Mr. Heath, the station agent, was divorced from his wife, Mrs. Blanche Heath, on the ground of extravagance. Mr. Montgomery was released from his bonds on the ground of desertion. Neither suit was contested and prompt action was secured. No time was lost apparently by the interested parties, for, according to report, Montgomery and Mrs. Heath were married the next day in Kansas City, and because of a curious reporter getting on their trail Heath and Mrs. Montgomery were delayed a day, or perhaps because they wanted to be married in a first class town, so they were spliced in Maryville Wednesday.

Heath and Montgomery are said to be good friends, and there is no kicking. It looks like an even swap "unsight unseen," and everybody is happy except the good pastor, Rev. Harrel, who thought he was doing an original job and welding new material.

Alderman has consented to run as the party candidate for public administrator, so the committee announced.

A meeting of the congressional and also senatorial Bull Moose committees will be held within the next few days. F. P. Robinson will be the candidate for congressman for the new party and Sheperd Leffler for senator.

Gov. Hadley has paroled his 557th convict.

The merchant who does not advertise liberally this fall will miss many a dollar that goes to the man who does.

President Taft thinks cash should not be allowed to accumulate in stockings. There is no danger, Billy, as long as the trusts continue to fix the cost of living.

It is probable that more horses have had worms this fall than meningitis. A few doses of linseed oil might also be a good thing for a good many people afflicted with new fangled ailments.

Mr. Taft, it is said, will soon extend the civil service to cover fourth class postmasters. If he does, he will relieve a lot of men of a growing uneasiness and will also relieve congressmen of a lot of trouble.

Col. Roosevelt is now referring to Eugene Debs, the Socialist candidate for president, as "Brother Debs." A few years ago when Roosevelt was president and Debs was a defeated candidate he, classed Debs along with Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone as "undesirable citizens." Is it a change of heart or just a change of conditions?

It is a significant fact that neither the Republican nor the Third Term orators are discussing the tariff. How can they, when both their candidates have always been stand-patters where the tariff was concerned? And yet the tariff is largely responsible for all the burdens the people of this country are struggling under. No program for relief from present trouble can have any value which does not have for its very coping-stone the revision downward of the tariff.

There are a lot of people who would like to know, just as a matter of curiosity, whether the Republican and Bull Moose county ticket is for Taft or Roosevelt. Taft and Roosevelt are not friendly rivals pulling in the same direction but are personal as well as political enemies each devoted to the task of annihilating the other. The avowed purpose of the Bull Moose party is the destruction of the Republican party. The one is the offspring of the other. They feed upon the same hay and only one of them can survive in a formidable way. As it is the business of Roosevelt to destroy Taft so it is the business of the Taft party to destroy this new pretender to the throne. Men can not serve both God and mammon and they can not serve both Roosevelt and Taft. Now which do they stand for?

DR. CROWSON HURT.

Pickering Physician Suffers Broken Ribs in a Runaway Wednesday.

As Dr. E. L. Crowson of Pickering was returning from a call Wednesday evening a piece of his buggy harness broke and let down the tongue, causing the team to frighten and run away. The doctor was thrown into the road on his shoulders. He was badly bruised all over his body and had several ribs broken. He is being attended by his brother, Dr. Crowson of Sheridan.

We, the members of the Maryville Ministers' association, are saddened by the death of our comrade Dr. J. S. Ford. He preached and lived the whole gospel of Jesus Christ. Our sympathy is with his bereaved family, and our prayer for them is that the golden memories of his beautiful life may make their burden easier to bear.

THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, in a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble.

My husband asked me to try Cardui. I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it.

CANNONS IN "PEACE" PARADE

ORANGEMEN MARCHED WITH RIFLES AND AMBULANCES.

Leaders Urged Followers Not to Resort to Violence—Troops to Be Sent for Ulster Day.

Belfast, Sept. 26.—News that $20,000 was subscribed by Irish-Americans at Philadelphia Monday night in furtherance of the home rule campaign had the same effect on the speakers at the day's Orange meeting at Portadown County Armagh, as waving a red rag in his face upon a vicious bull.

Twenty thousand listened to denunciations by a long list of speakers, of home rule generally and John Redmond and "Dollar Dictators" in particular.

The usual procession followed, in which several clashes occurred between home rule and anti-home rule factions. The anti-home rule procession included two cannons, an ambulance, several nurses and a number of battalions of Orange club men carrying rifles.

The Orange leaders again urged their followers not to resort to violence until "passive resistance" has failed, and again their followers paid no attention to them. The outlook for serious trouble is threatening.

Large forces of troops are to be moved into Belfast in preparation for Ulster day, September 28, when the anti-home rule covenant is to be signed by the Unionists of that province.

Orders were sent from headquarters at Dublin castle to Brigadier General Count Gleichen, in command here, to that effect. He was informed that the first battalions would reach Belfast the night of September 27.

ALASKAN VOLCANO IN ERUPTION

Mt. Wrangell Now Throwing Smoke and Lava From Seven Vents Instead of One.

Valdez, Alaska, Sept. 26.—Mount Wrangell, the most widely known of the smoking volcanoes of Alaska, again is in eruption. Lieut. Prosser of the signal corps, who has just returned to Valdez from a trip of inspection reported that Mt. Wrangell was throwing out large volumes of smoke and lava.

Instead of one crater there are now at least seven vents and with the aid of field glasses lava can be seen issuing from the openings and flowing down across the glaciers.

This is believed to be the explanation of the high water in the streams draining that district. From Ketsina it is reported that the sulphurous fumes are so strong that prospectors working near Ketsina Glacier have been driven out.

SNOW TOO EARLY FOR FARMERS

Northern Grain Crops Uncut, Threshing Unfinished and White Blanket Covers Ground.

Wargo, N. D., Sept. 23.—Following a week of rain the first snow of the season partly covers North Dakota, eastern Montana and western Minnesota. In some sections the fall is heavy enough to delay traffic. Farmers in the northern counties of North Dakota and Minnesota will be heavy sufferers, many fields of wheat, rye, flax and barley being uncut. The corn crop also will suffer. Threshing was about half completed and a week more of good weather will be needed before work can be resumed.

Killed in Motor Wreck.
Albany, Mo., Sept. 26.—Mrs. J. A. Tipton, wife of a prominent merchant at this place, was killed and Mr. Tipton himself badly injured when a motor car in which they were returning home from a shopping trip, turned over between Stanberry and King City. Mr. Tipton and his wife had been in St. Joseph all day and left there at 6:30.

Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway through these alimentary or drainage organs every few days with salts, cathartic pills, castor oil or purgative waters.

Stop having a bowel wash day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and fowl gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, biliousness, coated tongue, indigestion, sour stomach or constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

KANSAS FAMILY SLAIN IN TENT

BLOODY FINGER MARKS ON BED

Wellington, Kan., Sept. 26.—Theodore McKnelly, the former car repairer for the Santa Fe railroad, who was beaten to death with a ball bat in a tent a mile east of the center of Wellington and his wife, Ida, who was beaten and shot to death, carried a thousand dollars insurance each. Their daughter, Gretta, 18 years old, also was a victim of the assassin.

Mystery surrounds the identity of the murderer. Mrs. McKnelly died at 7:45 without having regained consciousness. If robbery was the purpose of the crime the assailant overlooked $3 in a bureau drawer and some small change in McKnelly's pockets.

Should Have Had $60.

Otto McKnelly, the 21-year-old son of the murdered man, says that his father should have had at least $60. McKnelly was 52 years old. His wife was 50. They had lived in Wellington five years. McKnelly recently lost his job with the Santa Fe, and being a consumptive, decided to take up tent life, and it was believed the open air life would do them good.

They had just erected the tent and moved in at 6 o'clock. There was a light burning in the tent as late as 10 o'clock, the neighbors say, and when found at noon the McKnells were in their night clothes.

Signs of Fierce Struggle.

The bed clothing on both beds showed signs of fierce struggles. The sideboards of the bed occupied by McKnelly was covered with bloody finger marks, showing that McKnelly had tried to get under the structure, out of reach of the murderer.

Otto McKnelly worked all night as usual, according to the records in the roundhouse of the Santa Fe. He was awakened at noon to be taken to the scene of the murder, but did not go inside the tent. He did not go to the hospital during the day to see his mother. He was too much excited to make a statement, and only said that he had no knowledge of enemies that his parents or sister might have had.

The spot where the McKnelly tent was pitched is in a lonely place, several blocks away from any house, a half mile east of the Santa Fe roundhouse.

Two years ago a car repairer for the Santa Fe was beaten to death one night in his bachelor home near where the McKnells formerly lived. The dead man and McKnelly were close friends.

HELD COURT SESSION ON TRAIN

Three Men Convicted and Fined in Railroad Coach for Drinking Liquor.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 26.—Arrested aboard a train operating between Joplin and Neosho, Mo., three men were given trials, convicted and fined on the morning train by officials of Newton county, Missouri.

I. H. Collier, sheriff, arrested the men for drinking liquor aboard the train. He escorted them to a rear coach where William Sexton, prosecuting attorney, and J. W. Wilson, a justice of the peace sat. The coach was transformed into a courtroom and the prisoners presented to the justice. Each pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and "court" costs. They paid the assessments and were discharged. Few passengers were aware that a court hearing was taking place.

FREIGHT RATE IS HIGH ENOUGH

Proposed Increase by Kansas City Southern Held Up by Commerce Commission.

Washington, Sept. 26.—A general increase in class freight rates from points in Missouri to destination in Kansas and other states, proposed by the Kansas City Southern railway by the cancellation of through rates, was suspended by the interstate commerce commission from September 30 until January 28.

In some instances the increase of the first class rates would amount to 90 per cent and in all instances the increases are regarded by the commission as unreasonable.

Returned El Tigre Silver.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 26.—Five bars of silver bullion worth $5,000 were returned to the El Tigre Mining company by Juan Gonzales, a wood cutter. The bullion, which was part of the loot recently taken by Salazar's rebels, was found in Santa Maria Canyon, ten miles from El Tigre.

Nicaragua Rebels Beaten.

San Juan Del Sur, Sept. 26.—The town of Granada, which was in the hands of the Nicaraguan rebels, has surrendered to the government. Gen. Luis Mena, the insurgent leader, has been taken prisoner.

CHINA'S TROUBLE NOT YET ENDED

Pekin, Sept. 26.—The troops encamped outside the gates of Wu Chang, capital of the Province of Hu-Peh, mutinied in the night and attacked the city. The troops numbered several hundred and were composed for the most part of cavalry.

A strong force of General Li Yuen Heng's regiment immediately engaged the rebels and after several hours of fierce fighting dispersed them. The casualty list is not known, but two officers were executed for failing to divulge their knowledge of the movement.

It is believed that the attacking party intended not only to loot the city, but most of the towns in the interior which have no defenders from such outbreaks, in which both the republican and former imperial troops bulge. The republican spirit apparently is not appreciated by the classes from which the soldiers are recruited.

The object of the present loan is ostensibly for the purpose of paying off and discharging this menacing army, which is very large, according to the lists submitted by the generals. The national assembly recently made an investigation and discovered that the generals, like the soldiers, were not free from the methods prevalent under the Manchus, but the government argues that it is cheaper to pay the military leaders' demand than fight.

The Chinese appear to be well pleased with the success of the new loan negotiations, the newspapers having stirred up an agitation against the foreign control as proposed by the six power group. Little heed has been paid to the fact that, contrary to the constitution, this contract has not been submitted to the national assembly.

Thousands Are Starving. Pathetic conditions prevail throughout the country. Occasionally detachments of soldiers engage in looting and wanton destruction. Trade is greatly hampered and thousands of persons are dying from starvation who could be saved by the employment of a few foreign engineers.

Meanwhile the political situation, which is absorbing the republican leaders, has curious and interesting phases. The Manchu princes recently gave a dinner in honor of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, and toasted the republic. But the imperial guard lined the streets during Dr. Sun's visit, this being regarded as the safest course. The troops of the court, contrary to the abdication terms, remain in the forbidden city. President Yuan evidently desiring their presence there.

FALLING WALLS KILLED TWO

NEW CONCRETE HOTEL BUILDING COLLAPSED.

Four Other Workmen Injured and Four Missing—Conflicting Stories as to Cause.

Kansas City, Sept. 26.—Crushed under a mass of falling brick, mortar and concrete, two workmen were killed, four are missing and four others were injured when the removal of the concrete forms from the roof of the new five-story Alameda hotel, Tenth street and the Paseo, caused part of the south and west walls to collapse.

A mass of conflicting statements were made by those who were engaged in the work. John S. Cochran, the inspector in charge, said that the work met the city's requirements and that Charles G. Alken was superintendent for Walter Davis, the owner. Alken would not admit that he was in charge and refused to answer any questions.

The contractor, George H. Siedhoff said a statement by Mr. Davis that many tons of cinders on the roof caused the collapse, was ridiculous.

An alarm was turned in and four companies of firemen responded and took up the work of rescue. Three men were taken out badly crushed within a few minutes.

To attempt the rescue of the men still imprisoned without razing the walls was too dangerous.

The north and south walls were pulled down and a portion of the rear wall which still stood was also razed. The work of rescue was then resumed.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the body of W. W. McBride, foreman of the brick construction, was recovered. An hour later the rescue work was abandoned until morning, owing to the danger of further collapses.

Floyd E. Jacobs, assistant prosecuting attorney, said that if the reports gave any evidence that the accident was due to negligence an action for criminal negligence would be brought. A conviction of manslaughter in the fourth degree can be obtained for criminal carelessness.

The Alderman Dry Goods company has just completed the interior decorations of its store. The walls have all been painted with the famous Pan-stone preparations. This sanitary paint has given very good satisfaction in the east, but few have used it in this section of the country. The entire basement has been cemented to make room for the large stock. The new front will be in and completed in about three weeks.

BINDER FOR SHOCKING CORN

In describing a contrivance for shocking corn, a Nebraska man writes in the Missouri Valley Farmer as follows:

I have worked out a little device to help with the large shock, so that the band may be put on with ease. The device consists of a tapering shaft 3 1/2 feet long to which a crank is attached. C and D is a crossbar or washer through which a rope passes after being attached to the other end, and fastens to the crank. E is the loop in the rope to fasten to the hook after the rope has been carried around the shock. The operator takes hold of the crank, reels in the rope and pulls up the stalk so the second man has no trouble in putting a band on a large shock.

To Kill Wire Grass.

The so-called wire grasses are many. Such grasses as propagate by means of creeping root-stalks constantly reproduce new plants at the rooting joints, as couch or quack grass, Johnson grass, Bermuda grass and members of the blue-grass family. This pasture, if adapted to tillage, should be completely pulverized to the depth of four inches with a cutaway or disk harrow in July and kept harrowed once a week so long as the soil remains dry during the remainder of the season, allowing no green spear of grass to get a foothold.

By fall the mass of roots will be practically lifeless if the season has been normally dry and hot. The whole should then be turned under ten inches deep, using a jointer. In the spring, harrow every week until time to plant a cultivated crop, then keep perfectly clean and the battle will be won.

Kohl-Rabi.

In most sections of the north a good crop of kohl-rabi may be grown if seed is sown not later than the middle of August. White Vienna is a good variety. See that the soil is well enriched with rotten manure before sowing the seed.
